this country in 1863, coming direct to St. Louis, where he remained for ten years. In 1873 he came to Carrollton, and lived in this vicinity continuously until his death. He was married Jan. 23, 1882, to Miss Anna Pohlmann, and to them nine children were born, eight of whom are living. They are John Jr., Frederick, Agnes, Marie, Joseph, George, Lawrence and Louis. He leaves also two brothers and one sister--Herman H., of Hanover, Germany; Henry and Mrs. John B. Jansen of Windthorst, Texas. Mr. Ostermann suffered a stroke of paralysis on the 13th inst., and contrary to the hopes of his family and friends, did not rally from it. His death cast a deep shadow over the entire Centerville neighborhood. He was a man of sterling character, well read and broad-minded, ever ready to help a friend or neighbor and charitable to all. By his good judgment and close application to business he accumulated considerable of this world's goods and won the honor and respect of his fellow man.
