Notes for Amon WOOD:

Woodville a small village, situated in the southwestern part of the county was platted as a village on the 10th of October, 1835, by Amon Wood, Seanright Wood and others. ... Not long thereafter George Rice opened a general merchandise store and conducted a prosperous business; his successors were aleen Wood and John Bronough. Shortly after the town was laid off, Esquire Wood erected a two-story frame buidling for use as a store, but it was never used as such ... 1879 History p429-430

"A. Wood came to Greene county in 1833, and settled on the farm now owned by his son, John L. Aman Wood was born in the state of Maryland, in the year 1777, and was a son of Stephen and Rachel Wood, natives of Maryland. His father served in the war of 1812. Aman moved, with his parents to Kentucky, where he was married to Sarah Baker, a daughter of David Baker. They were the parents of 14 children - Bennett, deceased; James, deceased; Mahulda and Mahala, twins, deceased; Phebe, deceased; Cynthia, married William R. Rice, who died, and she was again married to James Short; Squire, deceased; Sarah, married George Rice, now deceased, and is again married to Gillespie Lapdice; Aquilla, married Mary Dix; Wilson and Allen, deceased; John L., the subject of the sketch which follows, and one child, who died an infant. Mr. Wood came to Greene county in the fall of 1833, settling in Bluffdale township, on the section where John L. now resides. The town of Woodville received its name from Mr. Wood. He died in June, 1850, and was buried in Maberry cemetery. Mrs. Wood survived him 15 years, and was buried by the side of her husband." 1885 History p836

Notes for Bennett WOOD:

"...Bennett Wood, came to this State and county in 1828, and settled in North Litchfield Township, and was one of the very earliest settlers there. His nearest neighbor was three and one-half miles away, and in this lonely place he lived until his death. He was a devout man, a minister of the Baptist Church, and one of those brave, good men who sacrificed every comfort and ambition in life to assist and console others. There were few then to comfort the sick with spiritual consolation, to perform the marriages or to give Christian burial to the dead. The deprivations which these good men went through have always seemed to the writer to be the most pathetic portions of the pioneer's life." 1892 Portrait and Biographical Record of Montgomery and Bond Counties, Illinois, Leroy Wood biography, pages 438-439.

- ii. JAMES WOOD was born about 1802 (maybe). He died on 06 Sep 1863 in Montgomery, Illinois (maybe this James Wood).

"Allen B. Wood was a native of Kentucky, and early became identified in agricultural pursuits. He accompanied his parents to Greene County in an early day, the exact date can not now be ascertained, where many of the name in subsequent years bore a prominent part in the growth and development of the county. Allen B. Wood became more fortunately situated in life than many in the West in an early day, although for some little time he worked as a farm hand. In 1850 he was united in marriage to Miss Tryphena Mulberry, by whom he had eight children, four of whom are living: John P., Addie, George, and Judy Ethel. Not long after his marriage, Mr. W. embarked in the grocery and dry goods trade in a small building in what is familiarly known as Upper Woodville, commencing his business on a light capital, save wit and energy, he sprang at once into a successful business career, and in after years became the owner of valuable farm property. He died during the Autumn of 1873, after a long and eventful life, and was laid at rest in the Maberry Cemetery. Mrs. Wood, who was born in Kentucky on the 26th of August, 1827, passed away March 18, 1871." 1879 History of Greene County pages 766-767
